Book 5

Definition 4

Those) magnitudes are said to have a ratio with respect to one another which, being multiplied, are capable of exceeding one another.[§]